COMMONWEALTH STRATEGIC PARTNERS ANNOUNCES INCREASED HARRISBURG PRESENCE, PENNSYLVANIA PARTNERSHIPS, AND LAUNCH OF REDESIGNED WEBSITE

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, Commonwealth Strategic Partners (CSP) announced the expansion of its Pennsylvania operations, coinciding with the launch of its newly redesigned website featuring client case studies and updated services.

“We are thrilled to announce our expanded operations in Pennsylvania where our work is strengthened by the recent addition of Michael J. Conallen and Sean D. Schafer. Through their ongoing collaborations with PALA [Pennsylvania Assisted Living Association] and Greystar, we have been granted the opportunity to enact meaningful change in the Commonwealth,” said CSP Co-Founders and Managing Partners, George S. McElwee and Keith J. Pemrick.

“To highlight our services and availability to future partners in Pennsylvania, we’re also pleased to launch our newly designed website,” McElwee said. “It highlights the work we’ve already accomplished, but also shares our vision for the future.”

In the short time following CSP’s expansion into Pennsylvania, partnership with the Pennsylvania Assisted Living Association has led to the acquisition of $50 million in federal funding to support assisted living and personal care facilities. Similarly, CSP has worked to rally local legislators and submit an RCAP (Redevelopment Assistance Capital Program) grant in support of a new Greystar manufacturing facility set to provide jobs and economic growth in Clarion County.

“There is a real sense of optimism about the work we’ve done and what the future holds for us in collaboration with our partners in Pennsylvania,” Pemrick said. “We like to think that efficacy and concrete results speak loudly, creating trust in our process, our resources, and our commitment to the Commonwealth.”
